State of Rhode Island Revenue Assessment Report
Monthly and Year-to-Date FY 2019 as of May 2019

The monthly revenue assessment report compares adjusted revenues, on a monthly and fiscal year-to-date basis, to the Office of Revenue Analysis' monthly and fiscal year-to-date estimates of expected revenues based on the current fiscal year revenue estimates. It should be noted that the fiscal year revenue estimates will vary over the course of the fiscal year as the Revenue Estimating Conference (REC) (see Rhode Island General Laws § 35-16-1 et seq.) convenes and modifies the fiscal year revenue estimates as enacted by the General Assembly.

The purpose of the Revenue Assessment Report is to give readers a sense of how the state's general revenues compare to those that might be expected if the official revenue estimates were being met in a predictable way. Caution should be exercised when interpreting this report as actual revenues may vary significantly from historical patterns. In addition, it is important for the reader to understand that enacted and adopted revenue estimates are made on an accrual basis, not a cash basis. Revenue accruals are not determined until at least one month after the fiscal year-end in June. Thus, even if the assessment of actual fiscal year-to-date revenues trails the fiscal year-to-date revenue estimates, it is possible for the fiscal year-end accrual to make up any shortfall.

The May monthly revenue assessment report is the only report that compares adjusted revenues to expected revenues based on the revised revenue estimates adopted at the May 2019 REC. The principals of the May 2019 REC increased FY 2019 estimated total general revenues by $24.8 million. There is no Revenue Assessment Report issued for the month of June. Instead, a Special Report on Preliminary Revenues for FY 2019 is prepared and issued in September.

FY 2019 Variance of Adjusted Revenues to Estimate

Law Changes Enacted in the 2018 Session That Impact General Revenues

In the 2018 session, and earlier sessions, the General Assembly enacted several changes to the state's general laws that impact general revenues. These changes can be categorized as follows: (1) changes that reclassify revenues that were previously considered to be general revenues to other funds; and (2) changes that impact FY 2019 general revenues that will be realized through monthly revenue flows. Those changes in state law that impact monthly revenue flows will generally exhibit seasonality in the receipt of the revenue. The Office of Revenue Analysis (ORA) attempts to model the seasonality in such revenue flows in order to better align the expected receipt of revenues with the actual receipt of revenues. A more specific discussion of these items is provided in the appendix to this report.

Estimate of Revised FY 2019 Revenues

In order to determine the expected monthly and fiscal year-to-date revenues, ORA first calculates the average percentage of total adjusted revenues that occurred in a given month over the previous five fiscal years for each revenue item.<sup>1</sup> For business corporation tax, public utilities gross earnings tax, financial institutions tax, insurance company gross premiums tax, and bank deposits tax revenues, ORA used adjusted FY 2018 percentages to account for the change in the estimated payments schedule for these tax types.<sup>2</sup> For monthly revenues, these percentages are applied to the revised FY 2019 revenue estimate for each revenue item that was adopted at the May 2019 REC. For the fiscal year-to-date revenues, the monthly percentages are summed and then applied

<sup>1</sup> The previous five fiscal years are FY 2014 through FY 2018. In the case of personal income tax refunds and adjustments revenues, FY 2012 through FY 2015 and FY 2018 were used in computing the five-fiscal year average percentage. These fiscal years were selected due to the impact on refund processing in FY 2016 and FY 2017 that resulted from the implementation of the new personal income tax system by the Division of Taxation.

<sup>2</sup> Prior to tax year 2018, these taxpayers paid 100 percent of their projected tax year liability by the sixth month of their tax year. For taxpayers with a tax year that coincided with the calendar year, this meant that 100 percent of their projected tax liability had to be paid by June of the calendar year which was the end of the state fiscal year. As a result, revenue deferrals were posted against these tax types as part of the accrual process effectively pushing one-half of the estimated payments received by the state into the following fiscal year.

Effective for tax year 2018 and beyond, these same taxpayers now pay 50 percent of their projected tax year liability by the sixth month of their tax year. As a result of this change, in FY 2018, the state received significantly less in estimated payments from these taxpayers with the expectation that additional estimated payments will be made in the ninth and twelfth months of their tax year (for a calendar year taxpayer, the ninth and twelfth months of their tax year is September and December). Although the state received less in estimated payments in FY 2018 for these tax types than in previous fiscal years, the reversal of the FY 2017 revenue deferral resulted in comparable total revenue amounts being realized in FY 2018 vis-à-vis FY 2017.

To model the expected receipt of additional estimated payments from these taxpayers in the ninth and twelfth months of their tax year, ORA used the actual revenues received in each month of FY 2018 as a percentage of the total revenues received in FY 2018. This yielded monthly percentages that did not sum to 100 percent as actual revenues received in FY 2018 were less than total revenues realized due to the reversal of FY 2017 revenue deferrals. ORA then subtracted the sum of these monthly percentages from 100 percent and allocated the remaining percentage across September and December to approximate the receipt of the remaining 50 percent of estimated payments due from these taxpayers.

to the revised FY 2019 revenue estimate for each revenue item. For other miscellaneous revenues, the actual fiscal year-to-date revenues are used in place of an estimate due to the discrete and unpredictable nature in the timing of these receipts.

Table A provides the rounded five-year or ten-year, in the case of estate and transfer tax revenues, average percentages used to determine expected monthly and fiscal year-to-date revenues for May.<sup>3</sup> It should be noted that ORA has made adjustments to these percentages based on the estimated flow of revenues that result from the changes in law enacted by the 2018 General Assembly and included as part of the revenue estimates adopted at the May 2019 REC.<sup>4</sup>

Health Care Provider Assessment	8.0 %	91.1 %	Unclaimed Property	0.0 %	0.0 %

The health care provider assessment consists of an assessment on nursing homes. Motor vehicle fees are comprised of fees paid to issue updated or duplicate operators' licenses. Racing and athletics taxes consist of a tax on wagers placed on out-of-state greyhound and horse races that are broadcast to Rhode Island via closed circuit television. The "Percent Received" for monthly and year-to-date departmental receipts is calculated excluding hospital licensing fee revenues, which are large and generally received once in the fiscal year. Finally, the lottery transfer does not begin in a given fiscal year until August, while the unclaimed property transfer occurs only in June of each fiscal year.

<sup>3</sup> As noted previously, adjusted FY 2018 percentages were used for business corporation tax, public utilities gross earnings tax, financial institutions tax, insurance company gross premiums tax, and bank deposits tax revenues due to the change in the estimated payments schedule for tax year 2018 and beyond.

<sup>4</sup> The passage of the federal Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 (TCJA) has also impacted the flow of revenues for personal income tax final payments and business corporation tax revenues. ORA has made distinct adjustments to these revenue items to capture the flow of revenues due to the TCJA.

Due to the unusual characteristics of the enacted FY 2019 legislative changes that were included in the estimates adopted at the May 2019 REC for personal income tax final payments, business corporation tax, insurance company gross premiums tax, sales and use tax, motor vehicle license and registration fees, departmental receipts and the lottery transfer, ORA had to adjust the revenue bases against which FY 2019 adjusted revenues would be assessed for these revenue items. As a result, ORA will use modified revenue flows for expected FY 2019 revenues for these revenue items to gauge the sufficiency of adjusted FY 2019 revenues in meeting estimated revenues. The footnotes to Table B detail the breakdown of modified revenue flows and accruals for each of these revenue items.

The revised FY 2019 estimates by revenue item as adopted at the May 2019 REC are as follows:

		Total General Revenues *	$ 4,017,910,000
* Total general revenues estimate includes a personal income tax net accrual of $7,500,000.

Notes to Table B:

<sup>a</sup> Personal income tax final payments revenues revised estimate includes an estimated revenue impact of $4,392,630 from the addition of 22 new FTEs to the Division of Taxation. The realization of this law change will not impact FY 2019 revenue flows until January 2019 through June 2019. The revised FY 2019 personal income tax final payments revenues revised estimate also includes $2,523,607 in repatriation revenues from the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 (TCJA). The realization of these revenues is expected to occur unevenly in March 2019 through June 2019. Additionally, $463,360 of other TCJA-related personal income tax final payments are estimated to occur in FY 2019 in accordance to the general flow of revenues for this revenue item. For the period from July 2018 through December 2018, FY 2019 personal income tax final payments revenues will be assessed against a “base” FY 2019 revised revenue estimate of $266,083,763. For the period from January 2019 through February 2019, FY 2019 personal income tax final payments revenues will be assessed against a “base” FY 2019 revised revenue estimate of $270,476,393. Finally, for the period from March 2019 through June 2019, adjusted FY 2019 personal income tax final payments revenues will be assessed against a revised base of $273,000,000.

- <sup>b</sup> Business corporation tax revenues revised estimate of $164,500,000 includes $10,530,000 in repatriation revenues from the TCJA. The realization of these revenues is estimated to occur unevenly in July 2018 through December 2018. Additionally, $1,959,040 of other TCJA-related business corporation tax revenues are estimated to occur in FY 2019 in accordance to the general flow of revenues for this revenue item. The revised estimate also includes $1,817,004 of revenues from the transfer pricing audit project that is estimated to be realized from July 2018 through June 2019. The business corporation tax revenues revised estimate also includes a projected revenue impact of $1,142,100 from the addition of 22 new FTEs to the Division of Taxation and an estimated revenue impact of $450,000 from the repeal of the Jobs Training Tax Credit. Both of these items are expected to have a revenue impact from January 2019 through June 2019. As a result, ORA will assess adjusted FY 2019 revenues against a “base” FY 2019 revised revenue estimate of $162,907,900 for July 2018 through December 2018 and a “base” revised revenue estimate of $153,970,000 for January 2019 through June 2019. These “bases” will be used instead of the revised estimate.
- <sup>c</sup> Insurance company gross premiums tax revenues revised estimate includes an estimated revenue impact of $(3,260,047) from the redesign of the dual eligible Medicare/Medicaid program. The realization of these revenues is expected to occur in December 2018 through June 2019. The insurance company gross premiums tax revenues revised estimate also includes a budgetary impact of $(45,897) from a nursing home revenue maximization initiative. The realization of these revenues is expected to occur in February 2019 through June 2019. Additionally, the insurance company gross premiums tax revenues revised estimate includes $(110,278) from a reduction in the managed care administrative component, $(530,927) from a reduction in the managed care medical component, $47,228 from a 1.5 percent increase in the rate paid to nursing homes, and $(62,000) from the reallocation of Perry Sullivan funds. These revenue impacts are expected to occur in FY 2019 in accordance to the general flow of revenues for this revenue item. As a result, ORA will assess adjusted FY 2019 insurance company gross premiums tax revenue flows against revised “base” insurance company gross premiums tax revenues of $114,105,944 for July 2018 through November 2018, $110,845,897 for December 2018 through January 2019, and $110,800,000 for February 2019 through June 2019.
- <sup>d</sup> Health care provider assessment revenues revised estimate includes an estimated revenue impact of $(254,307) from the Rhody Health Options program redesign. The realization of these revenues is expected to occur in October 2018 through June 2019. ## Appendix: Law Changes Enacted in the 2018 Session of the General Assembly

Revenue Changes That Reclassify General Revenues

In the 2014 session, the General Assembly passed legislation that reclassified 100.0 percent of all motor vehicle operator license and vehicle registration fees from general revenues to other funds, effective July 1, 2017. In the 2018 session, the General Assembly enacted a change to reclassify duplicate license fees and license update fees as general revenues in FY 2019. Thus, these motor vehicle license fees will not be transferred to other funds. This increase in general revenue is included in the FY 2019 estimate of motor vehicle license and registration fees adopted at the November 2018 Revenue Estimating Conference (REC).

Revenue Changes That Will Be Realized Through Monthly Revenue Flows

Personal Income Tax

The FY 2019 revenue estimates adopted at the May 2019 REC include an estimated revenue impact from the repatriation of foreign derived income as required by the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 (TCJA) of $2,523,607 in personal income tax final payments. The repatriation of the foreign derived income for personal income tax filers is expected to be realized via stock buybacks and special dividends in 2018. Because TY 2018 personal income tax returns will not be filed until after January 1, 2019, most of the revenue impact from this law change is expected to be reflected in FY 2019 personal income tax final payments revenue flows beginning in March. As a result, personal income tax final payments revenue flows will be lower than FY 2019 revised personal income tax final payments revenues for the period July 2018 through February 2019. Additionally, $463,360 of other TCJA-related personal income tax final payments are expected to occur in FY 2019 but in accordance to the general flow of revenues from personal income tax final payments.

Finally, the 2018 General Assembly added 22 new full-time equivalent positions (FTEs) to the Division of Taxation in FY 2019 as part of an organizational restructuring. The total expected FY 2019 revenue impact from this law change on personal income tax final payments is $4,392,630. The revenue flows from the addition of these 22 employees is expected to be realized completely in FY 2019 during the months of January 2019 through June 2019.

Business Corporation Tax

The revised FY 2019 revenue estimates adopted at the May 2019 REC include an estimated revenue impact from the repatriation of foreign derived income as required by the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 (TCJA) of $10,530,000 in business corporation tax. The repatriation of foreign derived income by corporations was a TY 2017 event. Business corporation tax filers generally have until December 2018 to file their final TY 2017 return (if the taxpayer has filed for an extension) and, as a result, the revenue impact from this federal law change is expected to be reflected in FY 2019 business corporation tax revenue flows through December 2018. Thus, business corporation tax revenue flows will be lower than FY 2019 revised business corporation tax revenues for the period January 2019 through June 2019. Additionally, $1,959,040 of other TCJA-related business corporation tax revenues are expected to occur in FY 2019 in accordance to the general flow of revenues from business corporation taxes.

The 2016 General Assembly approved the Governor's proposal to have the Division of Taxation undertake a transfer pricing audit project, which was expected to increase business corporation tax revenues by $6,696,000 in FY 2017. According to Taxation testimony at the May 2019 REC, $1,633,144 was collected in FY 2018 and $1,514,170 was collected in FY 2019 through April, leaving an estimated $3,548,686 to be collected. ORA assumed an additional $302,834 would be collected in May and June 2019 and the remaining $3,245,852 would be collected in FY 2020.

Further, the 2018 General Assembly added 22 new FTEs to the Division of Taxation in FY 2019 as part of an organizational restructuring. The total expected FY 2019 revenue impact from this law change for business corporation tax is $1,142,100. The revenue flows from the addition of these 22 employees is expected to be realized completely in FY 2019 during the months of January 2019 through June 2019.

Finally, the 2018 General Assembly repealed the Jobs Training Tax Credit, a credit for which only C-corporations are eligible. The effective date of the credit repeal was for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2018. Since TY 2018 business corporation tax returns will not be filed until after December 2018, the positive revenue flows from repeal of this credit will be realized during the TY 2018 filing season of January 2019 through June 2019.

Insurance Company Gross Premiums Tax

The 2018 General Assembly enacted legislation that includes a revised revenue impact of $(3,260,047) from the redesign of the dual eligible Medicare/Medicaid program. The insurance company gross premiums tax revenues estimate also includes a budgetary impact of $(45,897) from a nursing home federal revenue maximization initiative. The realization of these forgone revenues is expected to occur in January 2019 through June 2019. Additionally, the insurance company gross premiums tax revenues revised estimate includes $(110,278) from a reduction in the managed care administrative component, $(530,927) from a reduction in the managed care medical component, $47,228 from a 1.5 percent increase in the rate paid to nursing homes, and $(62,000) from the reallocation of Perry Sullivan funds. These revenues are expected to occur in FY 2019 in accordance to the general flow of revenues for this insurance company gross premium revenues.

Health Care Provider Assessment

The revised FY 2019 revenue estimates adopted at the May 2019 REC include $(254,307) from the Rhydy Health Options program redesign. The realization of these revenues is expected to occur in October 2018 through June 2019. The health care provider assessment revenues estimate also includes a budgetary impact of $26,642 from an initiative to modernize long-term care services and supports (LTSS) eligibility rules. The realization of these revenues is expected to occur in January 2019 through June 2019. Additionally, the health care provider assessment revenues revised estimate includes $194,815 from a 1.5 percent increase in the rate paid to nursing homes. These revenues are expected to occur in FY 2019 in accordance to the general flow of revenues for this insurance company gross premium revenues.

Sales and Use Tax

The 2018 General Assembly enacted legislation that allows residents of Connecticut or Massachusetts who are medical marijuana cardholders to buy medical marijuana at Rhode Island compassion centers. The 2018 General Assembly also passed legislation that included a sales and use tax exemption for the sale of kegs and barrel containers to alcoholic beverage producers who place the alcoholic beverages in the containers. The revised revenue impact for this budgetary item is $(15,000), and the forgone revenues are expected to occur in FY 2019 in accordance to the general flow of revenues for this revenue item.

The 2018 General Assembly expanded the sales and use tax base to security and investigative services, as well as vender-hosted prewritten computer software, or software as a service (SaaS). Security and investigative services include all services listed under NAICS code 56161. Revised revenues from the sales and use taxes on security and investigative services are $9,715,473, which are expected to occur unevenly in August 2018 through June 2019. Revised revenues from the sales and use taxes on SaaS are $4,819,500, which are expected to occur unevenly in November 2018 through June 2019.

Finally, the 2018 General Assembly passed legislation that added 22 new FTEs to the Division of Taxation in FY 2019 as part of an organizational restructuring. The total expected FY 2019 revenue impact from this law change for sales and use tax is $4,371,300. The revenue flows from the addition of these 22 employees is expected to be realized completely during FY 2019 in the months of April and June 2019.

Motor Vehicle License and Registration Fees

The 2018 General Assembly enacted legislation that transferred duplicate license and license update fee revenues from the Rhode Island Highway Maintenance Account to general revenues and increased duplicate license fees and license update fees from $5 to $25. There is a revised revenue impact of $1,000,000 from these two changes. The realization of this increased revenue is expected from July 2018 through June 2019 in accordance to the general revenue flows of this revenue item. Also included in the FY 2019 revised revenue estimates is the estimated impact of the implementation of federally compliant Real ID motor vehicle operators' licenses, which were available beginning in December 2018. There is a revised revenue impact of $100,000 from license update fees associated with individuals that receive a Real ID prior to their current license renewal date. These revenues are expected to occur in the months of December 2018 through June 2019.

The monthly distribution of all of these revenue flows is expected to be the same as departmental receipts revenues in general.

Further, the 2018 General Assembly enacted legislation that increased the mutual fund registration fee from $1,000 to $1,750, which is estimated to increase revenues by $6,850,000. The fee for insurance claims adjusters was also increased from $150 to $250, which is estimated to increase revenues by $3,000,000. Also included in the FY 2019 revised estimates for other miscellaneous revenues is $795,000 from the increase in license fees for the three compassion centers that operate in Rhode Island. The Revenue Assessment report accounts for these revenues as they are received.

The revenue estimate for this new gaming option was revised to $2,200,000 at the May 2019 REC due to the delay in commencing sports betting at Twin River and the Tiverton Casino Hotel.
